Big Demonstration "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

The arrival of Commany B, Twentleth Kansas volunteers, in Kansas City, Kas, will be attended with a demonstration such as has never before been witnessed in the city across the line. The people of the city across the line. The people of the kansas metropolis propose giving their distinguished young soldiers a reception which will be as warm, if not so elaborate, as the greating at management seems when the mittee to rake ended to Admiral Devery in the nation's metropolis. Since Mayor Marshman appointed a committee to rake and make arranged with the committee to rake the soldiers from Kansas City, Kas, the admirers of Commany. The soldiers are now $1.60 per pany B has attended but running over each other to get all but running over e tee that he wanted to give as much as the next man for the entertalnment of Company B; Wyandotte lodge No. 140. Order of Elks, has voted $100 to the fund, and many citizens have signified a desire to help pay the expense of showing the boys that they are held in grateful remembrance by their townspeople.

The conclusion is this—that the ten in every community should be to be the citizens.

The feminine clubs and societies of the cliv yesterday served notice on the committee that they wanted an opportunity to do something for the cause, and asked to be allowed to banquet the soldiers. They propose to give the yong veterans a meal "like mother used to prepare." Everybody wants to do something.

The reception committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the council chamber and discussed plans for the reception of the company upon its arrival in the city. The programme will not be decided upon in detail until later, probably not until the company is heard from after landing in San Francisco. A committee from
